Nov. 1113

MONDAY, JANUARY 15. 1739.

N^o. 1111.

Last Saturday arrived the Mail due from Holland.

of the 16th ult. from Petersburg, bring the following Translation of the Speech made to the Czarina by the Persian Ambassadors at their first Audience.

Most illustrious and Great Lady, Empress and Sovereign of the Russians,

We present to your Imperial Majesty, to that Potent Lady, who, in Grandure and Happiness, equal the Moon and the Sun; to that Great Empress, whose Fame has surpass'd many Sovereigns of the World; to that Sovereign who is adorn'd with a Brilliant Crown, and whose Reign may God render constantly happy; We present to you that amiable Letter which has been given in Charge to us by his Majesty the Schach Nadir, the Great Lord, the Great Cagan, whom God has rendered the Conqueror and the Sovereign of the Kingdom Iran, so famous in the World, whose Reign may God prolong, and who, in Consequence of the good Friendship subsisting between the two Empires, has sent us, his Servants, in an Embassy to your Imperial Majesty. We don't presume to trouble your Majesty with a Recital of the Contents of this Letter, but most humbly beseech you to cause your faithful Ministers to read it, in order to make a Report thereof to your Imperial Majesty, and then to let us know your gracious Resolution.

To this Speech an Answer was return'd from the Czarina by one of the Ministers of her Cabinet, expressing her Acknowledgments to the Persian Monarch for this Embassy, and her Assurances that nothing should be wanting on her Part, for augmenting and confirming the good Understanding between the two Powers: Which done, the Ambassadors, and 8 persons in their Retinue, were admitted to kiss her Majesty's Hand, and after making three low Bows to her, they withdrew.

There's Advice by the Way of Dantzick, that on the 14th of November last O.S. a great Fire happen'd at Archangel, by which above 1300 Houses, most of them Wooden, were reduced to Ashes; but the Warehouses belonging to the Dutch Factory escap'd.

They write from Berlin, that General Keith, accompanied by his Brother the late Lord Marshal (of Scotland) who is Lieutenant General in the Service of the King of Spain, is arrived there in his Way to Paris, to be cured of the Wound which he received in his Foot at the Attack of Ochakow.

Letters of the 2d Inst. O. S. from Hamburg say, that the neighbouring Country is more and more alarm'd at the Approach of the Danish Troops, of which several Companies are already arrived at Bremen; that one of the five Hanoverian Regiments upon the March for Lawenbourg, has already cross'd the Elbe for that Purpose near Altenburg; and that some Regiments are also arrived at the Camp mark'd near Lentzen, which, 'tis said, will consist of 10000 Men by the Beginning of February.

They write from Poland, that there has been so much Frost and Snow in the Ukraine, that several of the Country People have been found starv'd to Death with the Cold; infomuch, that the Crim and other Tartars, who were assembled to the Number of about 600,000 Men, to invade the Territories belonging to the Czarina, have been obliged to abandon their Enterprize, so that probably Count Munich, who was to stay in that Province till the Time for executing it was pass'd, will now set out for Peterburg. The Letters add, That they have Advice that the Grand Vizier is set out from Constantinople to Adrianople, to hasten the Preparations for opening the next Campaign.

The late Storm was felt the same Night at and about Cologne, where it tore up several Trees and damag'd many Houses.

They write from Paris, That on the 29th ult. there was so great a Throng at the Opera to see the King, that several Persons faint'd away, and others were almost squeezed to Death in the Pit, and that above three Hours before his Majesty came, they re-fus'd taking Money at the Door, so that above 2000 People were turn'd away. The Cardinal de Fleury, being lately complimented by some of the Foreign Ministers upon his Recovery, he said to them, I am not us'd to flatter myself, but I can truly say it, that for two Years past I have not found myself so strong and hearty as I am at present.

The following is the Number of Persons born, died, and turned out of the Hospital call'd the Hotel Dieu in this City, during the last Year. In January that Year, there were 2872 Patients. There were admitted in the Course of the Year 20284, and the Children born were 1209, which Numbers make 24365. Of this Number there died 5158, and on the last of December there remained but 2789, so that 16418 were discharg'd in the last Year.

And from Madrid, That the King of Spain has declar'd to the Count de Marck the French Ambassador, that the chief Difficulties which retarded his Accommodation with Great Britain were fully adjusted.

Letters from Belgrade of the 13th ult. O. S. say, That the Turks and Vagabonds have in concert ravag'd above 40 Villages about Temeswaer, and along the River of Morosch; and those of the 20th from Petersburg say, That tho' the Plague is abated in Hungary, it still rages in Transylvania, where above 40,000 People have already dy'd of it, and 'tis computed that there are no less than 200 Places infected in that Principality.

Those of the 27th ult. O. S. from Vienna say, They have Advice from Constantinople, that the Grand Signior has oblig'd the Grand Vizier and the Count de Bonneval to be reconciled in his Presence. That Minister has baffled all the Effects of his Enemies to ruin him, so that tho' so great a Man as the Musti thought he should go near to do his Business, by accusing him of not having punctually observed several Ceremonies prescrib'd by the Alcoran during the last Campaign, yet the Accusation was despis'd as frivolous, and the Grand Signior has since given him new Tokens of his Friendship for him, which is a convincing Proof to the Musti, that the Porte is not so scrupulous about these Matters as it was formerly.

Extrait of a Letter from Florence, dated Dec. 10. O. S.

' By the last Post from Naples, Father Ascanio, receiv'd Letters from the Marquis de Montalegre, his Sicilian Majesty's Secretary of State, wherein he tells him, That his Master had never allow'd his Subjects to give the least Assistance to the Malecontents of the Island of Corsica, but on the contrary had caus'd Lord Theodore to be carry'd to Gaeta, on condition that he should embark there by such a Time, and entirely quit the Kingdom of Naples. And our Government has just receiv'd Advice, that on the 5th at Night two Feluccas arriv'd at Porte Ercole, and that the Passengers immediately, without going ashore, went on board a Swedish Frigate of 28 Guns, which arriv'd there a Week before: That on the 6th at Day-break those 3 Ships set sail again; that the Frigate saluted the Place with 11 Guns, and had the Salute return'd by the same Number; and that when the Frigate was out at Sea, she took down the Swedish Flag, and put up a Green and Yellow one, viz. that of Lord Theodore, and having saluted Porto Ercole with 21 Guns, turn'd the Cape to the Westward.

They write from the Hague, That 'tis the general Opinion that the Prince of Orange will be included in the future Promotion of Officers, in Quality of Lieutenant-General, in order to rivet the good Understanding between the States General and Great Britain; and that the Reconciliation of the British and Prussian Courts gives great Satisfaction in that Country, and will, 'tis thought, give a new Turn to several Affairs in which the two Courts are interested.
